The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

The drawings are objected to because Figures 1, 2, 3a, and 3b photocopies of photographs, wherein significant detail is indistinct; in Figures 7a, 7b, 7c, and 8-13 there is poor shading and none of the elements therein are labeled with indicia indicative of their function. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. With regard to the art rejections, applicant argues that Altshuler et al does not disclose a method for preventing, reducing, or treating pseudofolliculitis barbae (PFB) in a skin treatment area. The examiner must respectfully note that as Altshuler et al teach the precise treatment parameters disclosed and claimed, such application to the skin will provide the claimed treatment to any hairs present, regardless of the knowledge or intent of Altshuler et al. Thus this argument is not convincing.

Applicant argues that Azar et al does not disclose a method for preventing, reducing, or treating pseudofolliculitis barbae (PFB) in a skin treatment area, noting tha Azar et al teach a hair removal method. The examiner must respectfully note that as Azar et al teach the precise treatment parameters disclosed and claimed (note column 7, lines 11-20, disclosing the use of a flashlamp, which will produce wavelengths in the claimed range), such application to the skin will provide the claimed treatment to any hairs present, regardless of the knowledge or intent of Azar et al. Thus this argument is not convincing.

Applicant argues that McDaniel does not disclose a method for preventing, reducing, or treating pseudofolliculitis barbae (PFB) in a skin treatment area. The examiner must respectfully note that as McDaniel teach the precise treatment parameters disclosed and claimed, such application to the skin will provide the claimed treatment to any hairs present, regardless of the knowledge or intent of McDaniel. Thus this argument is not convincing.

Claims 38, 44-46, 49-53, 58, and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Altshuler et al.

Claims 10-14, 16-19, 21, 24-28, 32, 36-39, and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Azar et al.

Azar et al employ applicant's disclosed parameters and thus inherently will produce the variously claimed results. If the method of Azar et al does not produce these results, either applicant's claims are incomplete, or the disclosure is fatally defective.

Claims 38-41, 44-50, and 60-69 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by McDaniel.

The wavelengths disclosed by McDaniel are "in a range of about 380 nm to about 600 nm". McDaniel employs applicant's disclosed parameters and thus inherently will produce the variously claimed results. If the method of McDaniel does not produce these results, either applicant's claims are incomplete, or the disclosure is fatally defective.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 10-24, 29-37, 51-54, and 56-59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Altshuler et al in combination with McDaniel. Altshuler et al teach a device and method as claimed except for the particular pulse widths and fluences. McDaniel teach treating hair using pulse widths and fluences within the claimed range. It would have been obvious to the artisan or ordinary skill to employ the pulse widths and fluences of McDaniel in the device and method of Altshuler et al, since Altshuler et al make it clear that a vast array of combinations of parameters can be used as long as they are related in the ways defined therein, or alternatively, to employ the parameter interrelations taught by Altshuler et al in the device and method of McDaniel, since the parameter interrelations of Altshuler et al are useful for providing hair treatment, thus producing a device and method such as claimed.
